GRACE

INFLUENCE

GRACE FOR INFLUENCE by Damola Adelakun

Defining Grace for Kingdom Influence:

Grace for Kingdom Influence closely aligns with the worldly definition of influence but transcends its boundaries. It's the capacity to change the outcome of situations where it truly matters, both in the physical and spiritual realms.

Influence in Heaven and Earth:

Drawing inspiration from Matthew 18:18, Grace for Kingdom Influence is the ability to shape circumstances in both heaven and earth. It involves the power to invoke changes that align with God's divine plan.

Being Salt and Light:

Reflecting on Matthew 5:13-16, we understand that believers are called to be the salt and light of the world. This means not only adding flavor and brightness to the lives of others but also affecting positive change wherever they go.

Influence Born from Intimacy:

Influence in the Kingdom is a byproduct of intimacy with the Spirit of God. Just as a close relationship with a loved one gives us a voice in their lives, our intimacy with God elevates our influence in the spiritual realm.

Four Realms of Influence:

Grace for Kingdom Influence spans four distinct realms:

1. Heaven
2. Earth
3. Under the Earth
4. The Sea

Each realm represents a unique arena where influence can be wielded, making it a powerful currency in the spiritual world.

The Immensity of Kingdom Influence:

Kingdom Influence isn't confined to faith alone. It encompasses several qualities, making it a multifaceted force. In Revelation 5, we witness the angels, living creatures, and elders proclaiming the Lamb's worthiness to receive power, riches, wisdom, strength, honor, glory, and blessing.

Influence as Currency:

Kingdom Influence isn't just an abstract concept. It functions as a spiritual currency that can be spent across the four realms. It surpasses earthly riches and possesses the ability to reshape the spiritual landscape.

Release from Captivity:

One of the most profound aspects of Grace for Kingdom Influence is its capacity to free individuals from captivity. Captivity in this context refers to being trapped in undesirable circumstances or conditions. By pleasing the Lord in our ways, even our enemies can be at peace with us (Proverbs 16).

Influence Over the Demonic:

Grace for Kingdom Influence extends to the demonic realm, as seen in Acts 19:15. Believers hold authority over evil spirits, transcending their influence. In life, influence can manifest in various forms, whether it's personal relationships, societal status, or even the way we carry ourselves.

Balancing Influence with Divine Law

To truly understand Kingdom influence, we must appreciate the importance of aligning it with divine laws. In a world filled with mysteries like hope, faith, and love, it's love that stands above all, for God Himself embodies love. When we move beyond earthly influences and enter the realm of Kingdom influence, we discover that it must be in harmony with divine laws.

The Parable of Talents

Just as the Parable of the Talents teaches us, each person receives talents and abilities according to their capacity. Beauty is no exception. If you've been blessed with beauty, see it as an opportunity for Kingdom influence. However, remember that beauty is fleeting, and it's your actions that will truly define your legacy.

Using Your Beauty for Kingdom Influence

It's essential to use your beauty wisely, not for self-indulgence but as a tool for bringing others into God's Kingdom. Don't squander this gift; instead, invest it in the lives of those around you. Be mindful that beauty fades over time, and when it does, your legacy should be one of purpose and impact.

The Influence of Money and Sex

In this earthly realm, money and sex hold significant sway. However, they must be balanced by divine law to become Kingdom influence. For some, wealth becomes a means to control others, while for others, sexual allure becomes a tool of manipulation. These forms of influence become hollow without a foundation in divine principles.

Positional Influence in the House of God

Within the house of God, there is a particular type of influence – positional influence. Church leaders, such as pastors and bishops, wield authority over their congregations. When this authority is abused, it tarnishes the sacred trust that should exist between leaders and their flock. Kingdom influence within the church must be characterized by love and a genuine commitment to God's word.

Political Influence and Godly Influence

In the broader world, we encounter political influence, where politicians seek to sway the masses with promises of a better future. Unfortunately, many political leaders forget their pledges once in power. This form of influence often lacks the spiritual foundation required for lasting impact.

Seven Pillars of Godly Influence

Within the realm of God, there are seven pillars of Godly influence:

1. Prayer
2. Fasting
3. Consecration
4. Giving
5. Obedience to the Spirit of God
6. Sharing the gospel and discipling souls
7. Increasing in the knowledge of God

These pillars serve as a blueprint for growing Godly influence in the heavenly realm. To wield Godly influence, one must align with these principles and nurture a deep relationship with God.

The Holy Spirit's Influence

Finally, the Holy Spirit plays a pivotal role in influencing our lives. Acts 5:32 reminds us that the Holy Spirit is given to those who obey God. Understanding God's agenda for your life and aligning with His purposes positions you for Kingdom influence.

The Ultimate Model of Kingdom Influence

To truly grasp Kingdom influence, we need not look further than the life of Jesus Christ. His influence over 2,000 years later remains unmatched. Examining His life reveals the formula for Kingdom influence:

Casting out devils
Spreading new doctrines
Calling for repentance
Healing the sick
Preaching the gospel of the Kingdom
Operating in the power of the Holy Spirit
By following these patterns, we too can unlock the power of Kingdom influence in our lives.

In the Kingdom of God, there are two primary missions: winning souls and discipling them. The concept of winning souls is about spreading the message of salvation and bringing individuals into the fold of faith. But what about discipleship? How do we acquire the kind of influence that can impact both heaven and earth?

Recently, my wife and I visited the Billy Graham Library in Charlotte, North Carolina. It struck me that Billy Graham wasn't known for performing spectacular miracles or speaking in tongues, yet he touched countless lives for God. His influence continued to grow, filling crusades and stadiums. This made me reflect on the different dimensions of influence in the Kingdom of God.

1. Winning Souls - The Primary Purpose

Winning souls is God's primary purpose for granting influence. When we bring people to Christ, we extend the boundaries of His Kingdom. This is where true influence begins.

2. Teaching and Discipling - Building the Kingdom

Teaching and discipling others in the ways of God adds a layer to our influence. As we impart Kingdom truths and mentor individuals, we advance spiritually and in our ability to shape lives.

3. Extending Frontiers - Taking God's Message to New Places

God desires to reach every corner of the world with His message. He bestows Kingdom influence to help believers extend His reach, displacing darkness with light.

4. Subduing Darkness - Overcoming Spiritual Forces

Influence empowers us to confront and subdue the forces of darkness. It's the authority to challenge and defeat spiritual opposition.

5. Pleasing God - Demonstrating His Approval

God grants influence to those who please Him. When He approves of our actions and character, our influence becomes a testament to His pleasure.

6. Horizontal and Vertical Influence - Impacting People and God

Influence can flow both horizontally and vertically. Horizontal influence manifests on Earth, while vertical influence affects our standing in the spiritual realm. Both are significant and determined by God.

7. Displaying Dominion - Showcasing God's Power

Influence is a display of God's dominion and majesty. When God's influence radiates through us, we become vessels of His power on Earth.

Types of Influence

Influence can take various forms:

Voice Influence: Your words carry power to compel and transform lives.

Face Influence: Your countenance can attract favor and attention.

Office Influence: Your role or position can shape your impact.

Reputation Influence: A good name precedes you.

Shadow Influence: Even your presence can bring healing and change.

Provoke Kingdom Influence

To unlock Kingdom influence, you must recognize that Christ in you, the hope of glory. Everything you need for true influence is already within you. Christ accessed power, riches, wisdom, strength, honor, glory, and blessing, and you can too.

Remember that influence isn't about gaining followers on social media or seeking worldly fame. True Kingdom influence compels people to follow a heavenly agenda. When you embrace the glory of God within you, you unlock the keys to influence that can change lives, shape nations, and showcase God's power. In today's fast-paced world, many people strive for influence, whether in their personal lives, careers, or communities.

How to unlock Kingdom influence

The Power of Glory: Christ in You

It is important to understand that the hope of glory lies within each individual. 2 Corinthians 3:18, highlight how, with unveiled faces, believers can reflect the glory of the Lord. Also, the only thing standing between you and a higher level of glory is a veil. Understanding and removing this veil is essential to accessing divine influence.

Humility: Grace to the Humble

The second key is humility, rooted in James 4:6. Humility is the pathway to divine grace. Embracing humility can lead to an increase in divine favor and influence.

Overcoming Temptation: Exchanging Trials for Glory

Drawing from the temptation of Jesus in Matthew 4:17-25 overcoming trials and temptations leads to a greater weight of glory. Instead of succumbing to life's challenges, believers can exchange their trials for a deeper divine influence.

Favor: A Key to Influence

Favor is the fourth key to influence. Favor produces specific levels of influence with others. Different dimensions of favor with individuals can translate into various forms of influence in one's life.

Following God's Plan: Staying the Course

Sticking to God's plan and instructions for one's life is the fifth key. We must have an unwavering commitment to divine guidance, because it leads to increased Kingdom influence.

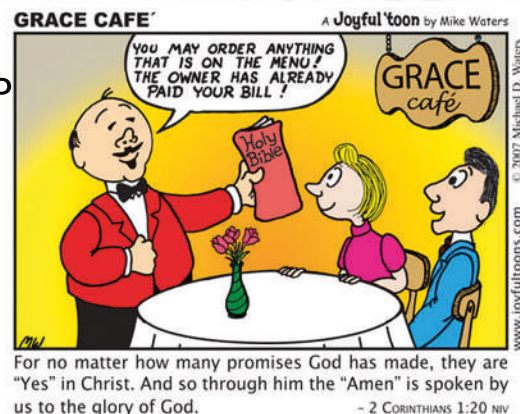

Honoring Others: Sowing Seeds of Influence

The sixth key is honoring others through acts of kindness, love, and generosity. By referencing the story of Isaac and Esau, sowing seeds of honor can lead to blessings and increased influence in one's life.

Increasing Knowledge: Multiplying Grace

The final key is an increase in knowledge, rooted in 2 Peter 1:2. Grace and peace multiply in one's life as they deepen their knowledge of God and Christ. This, in turn, leads to expanded divine influence.

GRACE FOR INFLUENCE: THE INFLUENCE OF THE PERSON OF THE HOLY SPIRIT - BY YEMI AKINS

The presence of the Holy Spirit is an integral part of the Christian faith, but understanding and experiencing this divine presence goes beyond mere knowledge. Joining with the Holy Spirit is not a journey that commences only after one is born again through faith in Christ. It is a continuous and profound relationship that transforms lives, making believers one with the Spirit.

The Initiation of a Divine Connection

Our connection with the Holy Spirit is not initiated when we first hear about Him or when the Holy Spirit is preached. Instead, it begins with a desire to be born again through Christ Jesus. This desire marks the starting point of our journey towards a personal encounter with the Spirit. It is an inner longing that ignites our hunger for a deeper connection, a hunger that transcends mere curiosity.

The Purpose of Encounters

Encounters with the Holy Spirit serve a profound purpose in the life of a believer. They kindle a fire in our souls, sparking a desire for a more profound connection with the Divine. These encounters drive us to seek more of Him and His transformative power. When we truly encounter the Holy Spirit, our lives take on a new dimension. We become vessels influenced and guided by His presence.

The Evidence of Encounter

Encounters with the Holy Spirit are evident in our actions, reactions, and the choices we make. Consider a scenario where someone inadvertently steps on your foot. A person who has not encountered the Holy Spirit might react with anger or retaliation. In contrast, someone who has experienced the Spirit's influence responds with grace and kindness. Encounters with the Spirit lead to a transformed disposition and a desire to minister to others.

Biblical Examples of Encounters

Throughout Scripture, we find numerous examples of individuals who had personal encounters with God, whether through Christ or the Holy Spirit. In Galatians 1:11-12, the Apostle Paul speaks of his encounter with the Lord Jesus Christ. This encounter profoundly impacted his faith and conviction, providing an unshakable foundation for his ministry. Paul's experience serves as a reminder that personal encounters with the Divine are essential to building a steadfast faith. They empower us to speak confidently about the Holy Spirit to others, just as Paul did.

The Role of the Word of God

The Word of God is the gateway to the supernatural and a critical element in fostering encounters with the Holy Spirit. Just as physical nourishment strengthens our bodies, meditating on the Word strengthens our spiritual connection. When we meditate on God's Word, we chew and digest it, allowing it to become an integral part of our spiritual being. This process cultivates a deep connection with the Spirit and enables us to enter the supernatural realm.

The Interconnection of Word and Spirit

The Word of God and the Holy Spirit are intertwined, working in harmony to guide and influence believers. The Word opens the door to the influence of the Holy Spirit, allowing us to experience His transformative power. Hearing about the encounters of others with the Holy Spirit can inspire us to seek our own, leading to a closer relationship with Him.

The spiritual journey is a continuous battle for influence. Darkness seeks to exert its influence over believers, while the Holy Spirit desires to guide and empower them. As believers, we must choose whose influence we allow into our lives. Scripture reminds us that those who are led and influenced by the Holy Spirit are the true children of God.

Personal encounters with the Holy Spirit are not reserved for a select few; they are available to all believers. These encounters are life-altering, infusing our actions and decisions with the transformative power of the Spirit. As we meditate on God's Word and seek a deeper connection with the Holy Spirit, we become more attuned to His influence. This union between the Word and the Spirit empowers us to live as true children of God, free from the influences of doubt and fear. Ultimately, our journey in faith is a journey of divine influence, and it is through encounters with the Holy Spirit that we become sons and daughters of God, guided by His love and grace.

In life, we often find ourselves at crossroads, facing choices that can significantly impact our journey. These choices may be influenced by internal or external factors, shaping our decisions and actions.

The Holy Spirit's Influence

The Holy Spirit, an integral part of the Christian faith, plays a pivotal role in guiding believers along their spiritual path. Much like a gentle nudge in the right direction, the Holy Spirit is that inner voice compelling individuals to pursue the path they genuinely desire.

Understanding Influence

To understand the power of influence, we must recognize that it operates on a deeper, often unseen level. It works in mysterious ways, driving individuals toward certain actions, even when they may not fully comprehend the driving force behind their decisions.

Two Sides of Influence

Intriguingly, influence operates on both positive and negative spectrums. The Holy Spirit's influence seeks to align individuals with the divine will, urging them toward actions in harmony with God's purpose. Conversely, dark forces aim to sway people in a detrimental direction, leading them astray from the divine path.

The Holy Spirit's Role

The Holy Spirit serves as an inner personality, quietly influencing believers to take actions that align with God's will. This spiritual influence is a powerful guiding force, directing individuals toward a righteous and purposeful life. It allows believers to tap into the divine wisdom and truth that the Spirit reveals.

The Pursuit of Truth

The Holy Spirit's influence extends to guiding individuals into all truth. It eliminates confusion, uncertainty, and distortion, leading them to the profound knowledge of God's will. This spiritual empowerment enables believers to navigate life with clarity and confidence.

Recognition in the Spiritual Realm

The impact of the Holy Spirit's influence is not limited to our personal journeys but extends to the broader spiritual realm. The cosmos, the creation, and all of existence eagerly await the manifestation of those influenced by the Holy Spirit. They recognize the power of the Spirit working through individuals. The Bible, in John 16:12-15, provides insights into the Holy Spirit's role as a guide into all truth. This divine influence ensures that believers receive the fullness of truth, unveiling the mysteries of the spiritual realm.

The Holy Spirit: Revealing Things to Come

The Holy Spirit is a guiding light, revealing the mysteries of the future. When we open our hearts to Him, He begins to unfold what lies ahead, offering us glimpses of the divine plan. It's important to note that those who speak in the prophetic spirit are His vessels. When you yield yourself to Him, you enter into a profound communion with the divine, becoming part of a grander scheme.

Becoming Bonded with the Holy Spirit

The ultimate aspiration for any believer is to be intimately bonded with the Holy Spirit. In this sacred union, your very breath aligns with His, and you can sense His presence without the need for spoken words. The Holy Spirit communicates through signals, and as you draw closer to Him, you become adept at deciphering His cues.

Understanding the Language of Signals

When you are in a close relationship with someone, you develop a unique communication style that transcends words. Similarly, your connection with the Holy Spirit allows you to pick up on His signals. You can sense when something is amiss, even when He doesn't articulate it. This profound level of understanding stems from your oneness with His thoughts and intentions.

The Power of Intercession

Romans 8:26-27 reminds us of the Holy Spirit's role in our lives. He intercedes on our behalf, especially when we're unable to find the right words to pray. In moments of weakness or uncertainty, the Holy Spirit steps in, groaning on our behalf, aligning our hearts with the will of God.

Living According to the Influence of the Spirit

Living according to the influence of the Holy Spirit elevates us to a spiritual realm. It distinguishes us from those who are driven by their own desires or even controlled by negative forces. This alignment empowers us to make choices that align with God's will rather than succumbing to worldly temptations.

Conclusion:

The influence of the Holy Spirit in our lives is unparalleled. It guides us through the spiritual realms, empowers us to understand His signals, and helps us navigate life's challenges. As we yield to His influence, we step into a realm where the desires of our heart align with God's will. May we continue to seek a deeper connection with the Holy Spirit, allowing His presence to shape our spiritual journey.

God bless you all and Happy anniversary to our EIC.

Att.
Ângelo João. – EIC Angola

Hello beautiful people.

My name is Oluchi Irokwendu. I've been a member of EIC for a little over a year now and the experience is been beyond wonderful. I look back at what/who I was before I came in contact with EIC and I can't help but marvel at how far I've come. I stumbled on an Instagram page I had a few years back and I wonder if I'm that person; the difference is indeed clear.

MY EIC STORY

In the month of June 2022, I came across an ad on Instagram that spelt out Entrepreneurs in Christ. I was pulled in by the picture used because it was from a fashion brand I had been following way before that time and I thought in my heart, if this people could be part of this thing what's stopping me? (I later found out that they had nothing to do with the tribe). At that time I wasn't looking for anything deep, neither was I on the altar for anything special, I just came across the flier and I just wanted to be part of the community because why not? I'm Christian and an entrepreneur.

After the first interview, I started joining meetings and they were kind of strange to me...I didn't understand why people had to be that loud blasting in tongues. It took a few weeks getting used to, but then I started to get the experience.

After about a month or two, I was invited to join the forerunners. I agreed and didn't think too much of it till we were asked to make videos (I'm a really shy person). Although as time went by, it became easier. Fast forward to when I met Min. Damola physically in the month of September 2022. We spoke, he prayed and advised me to join the PRAYER LEADERS TRAINING, and this was when the change really began. I began to understand deeper things in Christianity. As a person who transitioned from the Anglican community, it was becoming deep, but I kid you not, it was indeed a beautiful experience.

Through the help of the Holy Spirit and Min. Damola, i who couldn't even pray for 15 mins at a stretch without looking at the time a million times was able to go from 30 mins, to 40 to 45mins, to 1 hour and even over that. It was indeed an experience. I even started taking on prayer slots including the 10 hour prayer marathon on Thursdays. Then in the month of November I started feeling heat in my body at intervals. I could be outside, having dinner with a friend or doing something that had nothing to do with spiritual stuff and these heat thing was happening and it was really uncomfortable and I didn't understand it but I had heard Min. Damola talk about heat a few times so I went to him for answers and he explained to me that it was a purging, it was indeed an experience on another level. I kept observing my prayer time and I could tell that I was growing, EIC is the real deal my friend.

In the first week of January I had a dream and when it was interpreted, I understood the power of the dream; before that time, I had lost my ability to dream and from that time, I've had more dreams that are not basic and God has been helping me.

Through the help of EIC, Min. Emi especially I was able to leave a toxic body that i should have walked away from since 2021 but didn't have the confidence to. Like I would say to my friends, God brought EIC my way so that I could have the strength to leave that body. EIC has indeed been a blessing to me.

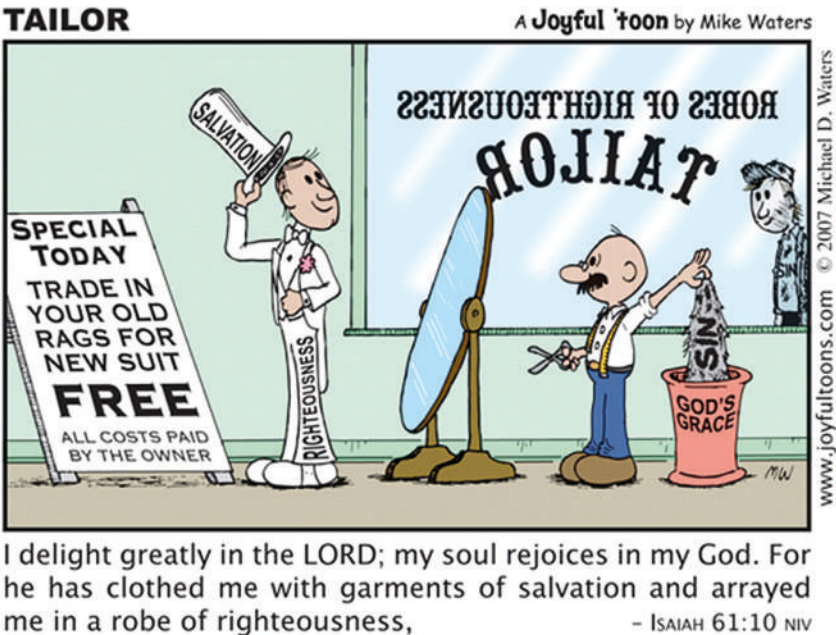

I began to pray and worship with deep understanding in my heart, things were becoming clearer. Then another opportunity came, THE SCHOOL OF MARKET PLACE MINISTRY. This is where one is trained in line with their calling into the 5fold Ministry. Pastor, Teacher, Evangelist, Apostle, or Prophet. Trust me, this is a whole different level and I'm a testimony. My spiritual senses are growing, I have experienced it and I'm grateful for the gift of EIC, it is indeed the best decision I made in 2022 and I wouldn't trade this experiences for the finest of gold.

The altar of EIC is where prayers are answered and testimonies abound. At EIC, we PRAAAAAAY... with all the emphasis you can think of. It's not a tribe that will call you to drink milk, EIC serves real meat.

Special appreciation to the Holy Trinity, Min. Damola, Min Emi, Min Yemi, you've been a blessing to me and I cannot thank you enough for taking this up and creating a family for Christian entrepreneurs all over the world.

Thank you, stay blessed.
