THE RESTORATION OF BROKEN ALTARS

Excerpt from the Teaching on

THE RESTORATION OF BROKEN ALTARS

God created man because he needed man to be an agent of civilization of heaven to earth: through man, God was going to have the control to extend his kingdom throughout the Earth. However, the enemy, being aware of this, came into the picture and distorted God's purpose and design for man.

Although God's expectation of man was that man would grow and mature to the point of being able to administer the affairs of the Earth, man was to exercise this control subject to God's own agenda, power and authority. Failure to align opened man up to the exploitation of the enemy

It is instructive to note that similar to how God needed man to execute his agenda of extending and expanding his kingdom on earth is the same way the devil is constantly seeking to use bodily forms to administer his own agenda. This is because spirits are always looking for physical bodies to possess or inhabit in order to control earth's territory and/or bring their civilization to earth. Unlike God, Satan cannot create. Instead, what he does is to pervert and divert what God has created.

On the earth, there is always a constant contention for territory by spirits with the end goal being to control territories and bring their civilization to reality. This is the reason we talk about the establishment of altars. Altars are essentially an established meeting point, place and/or time between a man and a spirit. One must be careful to understand that the same way God has a calling, assignment or purpose for one's life, is the same way that the devil has his plans for the same person. God knew and understood the devil's plan to want to colonize spaces on the earth after he was cast out of Heaven, which was why God in Genesis 2:15 instructed man to "keep" the garden. Sadly, man failed at this task and lost his godly delegated authority.

From the foregoing, we see the importance of intentionally erecting godly altars within our spaces. Else, one way or the other, the enemy will create their own altars in our spaces, and colonize the territory. At an individual level, it is important to have a personal altar. Other important altars to have are family and territorial altars. When you decide to erect any of these altars, the direct implication is that you are establishing a civilization or a spiritual reality in that space. When this happens, one is said to have built a spirit city and is able to determine to outcomes and possibilities in that space

Many years ago, during my undergraduate years as an in the University, life was great and my walk with God was solid. However, a few years after graduation, certain challenges came my way and my responses made it clear that I had been living off of the economy of a spirit city of a civilization built by another man. This underscores the need for a personal altar.

Let me ask you: do you have a personal altar upon which you guarantee that you execute deep business with God? If your answer is no, then you haven't begun your spiritual journey yet. If you make the mistake of trying to navigate life using the spiritual resources of another person's spirit city, you will come up short.

Someday, you may find yourself planted in a place and not having the capacity to hold your ground; you will be swept by the tides of the demons that run the territory because of the demonic altars erected in that place. We have a group of believers whose extent of a prayer life and an altar is showing up to say "Amen" to prayers someone else is making in a general prayer meeting. This will not cut it in the face of real life challenges

Many of us come from families where there are existent ancient, standing and potent demonic altars that continuously control and run the destinies of people. Spirits don't live in time; they are not bound by the physical realm.

This is why when they want to do business in territories, they seek to colonize bloodlines and generations (near and distant), and not just one person in the family. This explains why family altars are extremely important. Genesis 18:18 confirms why spirits seek to do business with and colonize bloodlines, and not just individuals even when it may have been one individual (dead or alive) that gave such spirits access into the family. Family patterns like premature deaths, family ailments, delays of all kinds etc, are evidence of the fingerprints of demonic spirits in a family due to some established altars by someone in that family – and until someone in the family stands up and addresses such altars, nothing will change. In Judges 6:25-26, we see how Gideon dismantled an altar of Baal erected by his father and erected an altar of God, after his encounter with an angel of the Lord.

You may already be asking: how and where do I start from? Well, the good thing is that more often than not, you are the one that will realize that something has gone wrong in your life and as you seek God's face, he will reveal to you what you must do to set things right in your family.

But it begins with an intentional commitment to a prayer life

As you progress, God will begin to give specific instructions on what to do and how. Leviticus 6:12 describes the components of the altar that one must build. Please bear in mind that once this altar has been erected, you have the singular duty as the priest to keep it active by making sure the fire of the altar keeps burning. Beyond this, you must fulfil the requirements of priesthood by consecrating yourself and living a life of righteousness. You must embrace the life of a priest.

Finally, the restoration of broken altars in your life and family will happen when you start exercising your authority in Christ, and so you must make a decision today to take back what the enemy has stolen from you, your family or your territory by embracing this call to a life of prayer and I know that you will experience great victory in every area of your life.

IN THE BEGINNING

(PART 2)

This is the story of one of the mightiest beings ever created.
One who was made to have an occupation, skill and service.
One who was also anointed in service and into whom music was part of the fabric of his body...
One who is described as "full of wisdom and perfect in beauty", "One who has been in the garden of Eden and whose covering was every perfect gem"
One who had access to both Eden and the Holy mountain of God.
One in whom music was fabricated into such that his every movement made purposeful sound and the object of whose worship/adoration was God!

Yes, Lucifer was specially created with a set of skills and a specific assignment around the throne of God as a Cherub which places him as a very high ranking angel whose only instructions were to come from God. He was perfect in all his ways before he sinned, his music was perfect/musically complete/wholesome/truth and without spot or blemish.
He was the heavenly composer whose music elevated the halls of heaven with praise and worship of God and was literally the definition of music made for God.

So what happened?

The created began to consider himself as superior to the creator... Lucifer began to place absolute trust in himself and considered himself to be like the most high. In summary, pride crept into him and he sought to overthrow God and or prove to the other created beings that he deserved to also be God.

He was flung out of the heavens, alongside a third of the angels who he was able to convince.

Because Lucifer was not stripped of his musical abilities, he has now converted that gift into a weapon of mass destruction. The bible records that he weakened the nations, made the world a wilderness, shook kingdoms and turned the world into a giant cage for the unsaved!. All of this while using the very thing he was created with.

For someone who knows what kind of music God likes, he now sponsors the creation of the exact type of music God does not like and this is a HUGE reason why people who profess Christ and are committed to God must be mindful of the kind of music they listen to.

Music is not just the song, it is the instruments and the source of that music.. demonic music is not just the one that has explicit words, it is also the instrumental forged from the pits of hell which does not have words but is a soundtrack designed in open rebellion to God. What you say is “soothing music” is soothing to the flesh and when God opens our spiritual eyes, we find a song that opens doors of demonic activity and weighs down the spirit of any Christian whose goal is to commune with God.

The irony? this music is around us every single day and everywhere you go, there are people playing all sorts without knowing they’re puppets in the hands of a music-fabricated being whose goal is not aligned to Gods.

Today, I want to ask you to guard your heart with all diligence and think of the heart as the living room while the doors/windows that lead to that living room happen to be our eyes, ears and even mouth.

I would rather revolve around the 5/10 songs that are spirit inspired / spirit led rather than attempt to physically filter what’s not right for me.

Another thing to watch out for is when Christian artistes begin to do collaboration with the world to release “safe” songs.. Light and darkness have nothing in common and we must be careful of these days when “compromise” begins to look like “acceptance”

What artistes or songs are you listening to at the moment?
